

This month's spotlight is on Sharie Hance

This month's spotlight has had many changes in the past year. Starting last November, Sharie Hance became self-employed when she started Blue Moon Marketing & Promotions.

Working as an independent contractor, Sharie is currently selling ads for a new publication called Black Hills Home Etc., a free quarterly magazine that will be available to the public beginning this month.

"This publication will contain advertisements, articles and editorials by local contractors, service businesses and supply businesses helping you with your home," she said. "On top of that I also sell ads for other private publications such as a Rally magazine with the City of Sturgis, the South Dakota State Campground Guide of which both of these publications are done once a year and am currently bidding on other private publications."

Sharie working in the printing field for the past 16 years and offers her expertise in that field as well.

After starting her own business in November, she made another life change in February.

"I married a wonderful man on Valentines Day of this year. His name is Tracy Hance and together we have 6 girls and one grandchild.," said the newly wed.

The couple enjoys weight lifting, golf, walking and doing yard work at the new home in Black Hawk. But singing Karaoke is their number one hobby.

Sharie has been a member of Women's Network for two years now and is grateful for the support.

"I just want to say, 'Thank you' to all of you. I have wanted to start my own business for years and you have given me the inspiration, courage and strength to do just that," she said. "This is a wonderful organization and I look forward to every monthly meeting. Thank you again!!!"
